REGULATIONS GOVERNING STUDENT DISCIPLINARY AT HIGHER EDUCATION INSTITUTIONS

- Cheating in exams or having exams cheated is listed among the disciplinary offenses that require suspension from the higher education institution for one semester.
- Cheating in exams with threats, preventing the removal of cheating students from the exam hall, allowing someone else to take the exam instead of oneself or taking the exam instead of someone else are among the disciplinary offenses that require suspension from the higher education institution for two semesters.

REGULATION GOVERNING KTU ASSOCIATE AND UNDERGRADUATE EXAM EVALUATION

- A student who COPIES, attempts to COPY, assists in COPYING, or is later discovered to have COPIED, takes an exam in someone else's place, or puts someone else in an exam in his/her place, in all kinds of exams, applications, laboratories, homework and other similar studies, is a student who receives ZERO on the exam or study.
- During the exam, any student who disrupts the general order of the exam in any way (taking the exam with a calculator unless allowed, taking the exam with a cell phone, stealing a cell phone during the exam, taking pictures or recording with a cell phone, taking the exam in another hall, resisting to be replaced, not giving the answer sheet or question paper, tearing it, etc.) is removed from the exam hall by taking the ANSWER PAPER. The answer sheets of these students are not evaluated and they are considered to have received ZERO for that exam.
- The penalty given at the end of the disciplinary investigation is recorded in the students' records even if they graduate.
